

NTSB Issues Preliminary Report Following UPS MD-11 Crash.

NTSB details prior to the accident the left-hand engine and pylon detached from the aircraft on take-off. The FAA has prohibited MD-11 and DC-10 series aircraft from further flight. Investigations are ongoing.

Read here

EASA's Annual Safety Conference saw that complacency was the biggest risk to aviation safety in Europe and seeks simplification of rules.

EASA ASC 2025 Sees Complacency as a Safety Threat

Read here

NTSB Reveals Two EMAS Systems Successfully Stop Two Separate Aircraft

Two Engineered Materials Arresting Systems, a bed of lightweight and crushable material installed at the end of a runway, successfully safely stopped aircraft at two different locations during runway overruns.

Read here

Report reveals wrong air conditioning switch selection caused depressurisation of the cabin of a cargo Boeing 737.

AAIB Releases Boeing 737 Depressurisation Report.

Read here

Urgent NTSB Recommendation Issued Regarding Learjets

NTSB reveal that main landing gear could separate from Learjet aircraft upon landing and have urgently recommended that all operators of specific types ensure main landing gear are correctly attached.

Read here

It comes after the realisation that solar radiation may affect data relating to operations of flight controls. However, minimal disruption was caused as most aircraft had been impacted had already been modified.

Read here

Airbus A320 Aircraft Mandatory Software Update Caused Minimal Disruption

European regulator has launched a new NPA to provide the industry with more guidance on how to set 'AI trustworthiness' as Artificial Intelligence becomes more advanced.

Read here

EASA's First Regulatory Proposal On AI For Aviation Is Now Open For Consultation

The next steps to expand London Heathrow Airport are now underway after the UK Government announces that they have now backed Heathrow's proposals for a third runway.

Read here

UK Government Supports Third Runway At Heathrow Airport.