

Airprox Reporting Focus

The CAA highlights the importance of accurate Airprox and MOR reporting, reinforcing how timely data sharing strengthens safety insights and prevents recurrence.

Read here

Maintenance fault tracking issues highlighted after asymmetric thrust from a faulty autothrottle went unnoticed causing Boeing 737 crash

Read here

Autothrottle Fault Causes Crash

A TSB report warns how quickly VFR helicopter flights can turn fatal in deteriorating weather, with IIMC leaving pilots seconds to react.

Read here

IIMC Danger Highlighted

Essex and Herts Air Ambulance highlights growing risks from drones, explaining how unsafe flying can delay critical missions and endanger patients in emergencies.

Read here

Air Ambulance Issues Safety Warning Over Drone Use

Light Aircraft Crash Essex

A light aircraft crashed at Clacton Airfield with fuel leaking and smoke reported, highlighting response readiness and post impact fire risk management

Read here

A laser was aimed at an aircraft, forcing pilots to take evasive action, highlighting ongoing risks of glare, distraction and flash blindness.

Read here

Laser Strike Risk

A crew taxied with control locks still engaged, resulting in limited control response, calling attention to importance of checklists.

Read here

Checklist Omission

A turboprop suffered engine fluctuations after water contamination in fuel—investigation points to storage and sampling procedures at the airfield.

Read here

Fuel Contamination Event